

The American Council of Christian Churches

INDIVIDUAL MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

Membership in the American Council of Christian Churches (ACCC) is open to those of good moral character and conduct, who, having met the constitutional requirements, manifest their Christian life and service in a manner consistent with the Scriptures and the standards of this organization.

The ACCC is made up of church denominations/fellowships, local churches, and individuals that have established strong loyalties to the fundamentals of our faith, stressing the need for ecclesiastical as well as personal separation. Each applicant must adhere to the ACCC Doctrinal Statement and believe it without mental reservation (see page 4).

Membership will not be afforded to those in the National Council of Churches, World Council of Churches, National Association of Evangelicals, the modern Charismatic Movement or the Ecumenical Movement.

Failure to answer every question will result in the application being returned.

Yes, I want to be a part of the American Council of Christian Churches as it declares in its mission/purpose statement:

The American Council of Christian Churches is a Fundamentalist, multi-denominational organization whose purposes are to provide information, encouragement, and assistance to Bible-believing churches, fellowships, and individuals; to preserve our Christian heritage through exposure of, opposition to, and separation from doctrinal impurity and compromise in current religious trends and movements; to protect churches from religious and political restrictions, subtle or obvious, that would hinder their ministries for Christ; and to promote obedience to the inerrant Word of God.
